

Rain, rain, go away

Summer seems a million months away, and this is the time for Northwest folks to slog through until June. It does get a bit damp this time of year, no? We love our Bogs for these months—nothing will keep your feet dry and happy like the waterproof boots from this Portland company.

It's no wonder they are chosen by everyone from Oregon master brewers to the fishermen on Discovery Channel's Deadliest Catch. Plus, they're super stylish AND comfortable. We love this fun pattern on the women's rain boot. Retail price: $80. www.bogsfootwear.com
